An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Scott Pierce on 4/26/04.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 1, lines 6-9, cancel "thermally curing...abrasive article" and insert in its place

C<sub>1</sub>
~~thermally curing the phenolic resin component for the entire period during which the phenolic resin component polymerizes in an atmosphere comprising added humidity, wherein the atmosphere has a relative humidity which exceeds normal relative humidity at a given temperature, wherein said atmosphere contacts the molded components, thereby producing the organically bonded abrasive article.~~

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The claimed method is novel over the cited references because said references fail to teach or suggest the limitations of the instant claims, specifically the limitation of step (c) of instant claim 1. With respect to the product claims 23 and 27, Rowse et al. and the Australian Patent do not contain an organosilicon component, wherein the product has the claimed characteristics, as required by the claims. Kunz et al. and Colleselli use a different process and the instant invention establishes that the claimed process produces an unexpected product. In addition, these reference fail to teach or suggest a product that has the claimed characteristics, as required by the claims

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
